The Fall-Winter 2023 Collection is a reflection of Autumn. Drawing inspiration from the tonal transition of a late summer's glow into warm fall foliage, and a deep evergreen winter, this collection is an invitation to embrace the natural palette & precious moments of the season.

From everyday delights to exceptional moments, Garnier-Thiebaut USA has been Decorating the World since 1833.

Paul de Montclos, CEO of Garnier-Thiebaut

GOLDEN HARVEST

As the last rays of sunshine soak through autumn leaves, we enter a prolonged golden hour. Marked by the fleeting light of the solstice, dandelion hues flood our interiors as the edges of our natural landscape are gilded by the sun. We bathe in the warmth of its atmosphere, and summer takes its final bow.

THE FRAGRANCE OF FALL

Crisp autumn air frosts our doorsteps, we take shelter in the interior and indulge our creature comforts. The ambient glow of a crackling fireplace plays in harmony with the spiced aroma of cinnamon and nutmeg. Surrounded by auburn foliage, our new color palette is generous and intense.

VERDANT WINTER

Once all other branches have shed their leaves, we enter a new period: the season of evergreen. Among the muted forest, great pines, and firs remain verdant. Stretching their needled arms into our interiors, the scents and hues of green hypnotize our homes in rich and natural nuances.

CHIC AND FLAX

Renowned for its excellent finish and proven to be less water-intensive than other traditional fibers, linen is manufactured in pure or cotton-blend and lends itself to creative and elegant jacquard weaves. This fiber, which is more difficult to weave than cotton, requires a different expertise and great technical mastery to achieve an optimal level of softness and shine.
